The mail from the West arrived here this The mail from the West arrived here this morning, bringing the news of another horrible massacre by the Indians. The mail men found the bodies of four persons—three men and one woman—murdered and scalped, lying by the rend side. Around them lay scattered several letters, but as they were written in French no one in the party could read them, and it still remains to be ascertained who they were or where they were from Beside the wers or where they were from. Beside the body of the woman sat a dog, watching eagerly her face, as if to catch a smile or word of reognition. Enciroling his neck was a neat collar bearing the name of "Haase."

The officer in command of the escort that accompanied the mail took the dog by force away from the place where they had buried the dead, and was bringing him in with the intention of keeping him, but when they had proceeded about twenty-five miles he escaped and started back toward the place from whense he bad been taken. A SENSATION STORY SPOILED .- The other day we read a statement that a New England clergyman had "abducted" a beautiful young girl, aged only thirteen, but accomplished beyond her years, and that the twain had made their escape to parts unknown. Version number two of the story places it in a new light. The "abducted" is the clergyman's own niece, and whatever accomplishments she possesses she owes to him, since she has been an inmeta in his family already she has been an inmate in his family almost from her birth. She was presented to him, and adopted by him as his own child. Her lather after a dozen years, attempts to re-claim her, and he who has been more than a claim her, and he who has been more than a father resists. And that is the whofe truth about the "Abduction by a Clergyman."— We certainly do not appreciate the wisdom of seeking by absconding to resist the process of law. Nor can we think that such an introduction to life will enhance the poor child's happiness. But it was worse than absurd—it was criminal—to give the foolish flight a name which opens the worst suspicions and surmises, without foundation in fact, or color in probability. in probability.

Robert P. Dunlap, Ex-Governor of Maine, and a member of Congress from 1843 FIRES ON THE PRAIRIE.—We hear of considerable damage done by fires on the prairies in Livingston and the upper part of McLosn counties. Between seventy and eighty tuns of hay, belonging to Messrs. J. B. Lancy and S. Bush, of Chenoa, were destroyed on Saturday last. In the south part of Livingston County on Sunday, the fire ran through the large cornfield of Mr. Benjamin Herr, taking all the weeds, together with the leaves and the very husks of the corn. Fortunately the fire was driven with such force by the wind that the stalks and corn we left uninjured. It is said that there is no case on record where so large FIRES ON THE PRAIRIE. - We hear of consid-Ab, are you alive?" said a fellew on meeting one whom he had grossly injured. "Yes, and kicking," replied the other, using the appropriate gesture with his right foot. Have you found a verdict? said a Judge to the foremen of a jury. No, your honor, we have hunted in every corner of the room, and there isn't one there. John Wise is out with another long letter on ballooning. What with John Wise's ballooning manifestoes and Gov. Wise's procstalks and corn we left unisjured. It is said that there is no case on record where so large an amount of corn was completely "shucked" in so short a period as this; nearly every ear being left bare; and requiring only to be broken off and conveyed to the crib. Mr. Alexander Wilson, living east of Gridley station, had a large amount of hay destroyed—his entire stock for the winter. One or two farm horses narrowly escaped destruction.— It was considered a great achievement to make hot air as a motive power, but a still greater one has just been noted. Compressed cold air is now used in New York city to set farm horses narrowly escaped destruction.

All the nephews of the General were bequeathed swords in his will, and two are in the possession of the Lewis family, the one worn at Braddock's defeat, besides other relies, being now at Marmion. Mrs. Lawrence Washington, of Westmoreland, is an aunt of Col. L. W. Washington, and of course, also a nearer relative.

> HENRY CLAY PATE ON OLD BROWN .- H. Clay Pate, the border-ruffian here of Black Jack, has published a card in reply to the charge of having showed the white feather to his old Kansas conqueror, Ossawatomie Brown. His letter closes with the following allusion to the imprisoned insurrectionist:

> As to old Brown, he has been an outlawall his life. Professing to be a zealous Christian, he is a fanatical hypocrite. Living at dif-ferent times in almost every State in the Union, he has been everything by starts and nothing long, except as mean a man as a a horse thief can be, and as treacherous as an heir of hell and a joint heir of the devil.

A DETERMINED SUICIDE. -Some few weeks since a young man by the name of Snyder Butts, living near West Davenport, Otsego County, New York, was taken insane, and when laboring under this state of mind atween laboring under this state of mind at-tempted suicide by cutting his throat, while at work in the field plowing, but it did not prove fatal, and the gash which he cut healed up, and since that time he has attempted to hang himself, but being watched his designs were frustrated. But a few days ago he jumped into a well, head foremost, his feet sticking out of the water; in this place he was found in the morning by a person going to the well, to the morning by a person going to the well to draw water. Before jumping into the well he took off all his clothes but his shirt and folded them up in a very careful manner.

BRODERICK'S SUCCESSOR .- A San Francisco

correspondent says: Gov. Weller, it is thought, will appoint no successor to Mr. Broderick's seat in the Senate, in the hope that when the subject comes before the Legislature, he (Weller) will be elected to fill the vacancy. Hon. M. S. Latham, the Governor elect, will be quite sure to oppose Gov. Weller, he himself aspiring to the Senate as successor of Dr. Gwin, where the Senate as successor of Dr. Gwin, whose term of office will expire March 4, 1861.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC BAILBOAD .- Our Texas exchanges, since the news has gone abroad that the State suit had been dismissed, and Dr. Fowkee was busily engaged in paying off the liabilities, besides taking measures to continue the construction of the track, begin, generally, to pay a good deal of attention to the South-ern Pacific Railroad, its position and pros-pects. They appear to have faith in its pro-gress, and the people of Texas, it would seem, begin to share in these sentiments.

Our readers have seen the item recently published in this paper concerning a burning well in Richland County. From the Richland County papers we learn that the man on whose farm the well is situated has a pipe adjusted to convey the gas to his house, where, of course, it's still a burning weell.

The reports as to her visit to America are indefinite, but a meeting of her directors was to be held on the 19th, when it was thought the final arrangements would be made.

A report is current of approaching changes in the French Ministry. Morocco has ten-dered all the satisfaction demanded by Spain. The London Stock market was bouyant, at daily improving prices. The Money market continued easy, and the supply abundant. The London Times says that the terms of the Zurich Treaty are almost identical with those agreed upon at Villa Franca. The rumor that France demands three hun-dred millions of francs from Piedmont as a war indemnity is pronounced false. She claims only a reimbursement of sixty milli-ons advanced to that Government in arms and provisions. It was reported that the Archbishop of Bor-

It is asserted that France will not recall her troops from Rome until the form of govern-ment there renders its presence no longer necessary.

Trial of the Virginia Insurrectionists.

CHARLESTOWN, VA., October 28.

During the afternoon proceedings in the trial of Brown, several witnesses were called for the defense, and, not answering, Mr. Brown here arose from his mattress, and, evidently excited, standing on his feet, addressed the Court as follows:

May it please the Court, I discover that, notwithstanding all the assurances that have been made of a fair trial, nothing like a fair trial is to be given me, as it would seem. I them, of the persons I wished to have called as witnesses, and was assured that they should be subpensed. I wrote down a memorandum to that effect, saying where these parties were; but it appears that they have not been subpensed, as iar as I can learn, and now, I ask, if I am to have any thing at all deserving the name and shadow of a fair trial, that this proceeding be deferred until to-morrow morning. 1 am in hopes that counsel may arrive who will attend to seeing that I get the witnesses who are necessary for my defense.

I am myself anable to attend to it, and have given all the attention I possibly could to it, but am unable to see or know about them, and can't even find out their names, and I have nobody to do any errand, for my money wa all taken from me when I was sacked and stabbed, and I have not a dime. I had two hundred and fifty or sixty dollars in gold and silver taken from my pockets, and now I have no possible means of getting any body to go my errands for me, and they have not been done, nor have all the witnesses been subpensed. They are not within reach, and are

Brown then laid down again, drew his blanket over him and appeared to sink into tranquil slumber. Mr. Hoyt, Brown's counsel from Boston, asked for an adjournment till morning, on the ground that Judge Tilden would probably arrive during the night and be able to appear as counsel. He excused himself from conducting the defense because he was not acquianted with the Virginia criminal

After further conversation between the ounsel, Mr. Green arose to state that Mr. Botts and himself would now withdraw from the case, and could act no longer in behalf of the prisoner, he having got up and declared that he has no confidence in the counsel who have been assigned to him. Feeling con-scious that I have not been able after this statement, and should feel myself an intruder upon this case were I to act for him from this time forward, I had not the disposition to undertake the defense, but accepted the duty imposed upon me; and I do not think, under hese circumstances, when I feel compelled to withdraw from the case, that the Court could insist that I should remain in such an unwelome position.

The Court would not compol the gentlemen to remain in the case, and secondingly granted their request.

The proceedings at this point were postponed, and the Court adjourned at six o'clock.

Great excitement prevails in the town, and the guard has been increased, the conduct of Brown being regarded as a trick.

CHARLESTON, October 29. The Court met at ten o'clock this morning. The Judge announced that he had received a note from the new counsel of the prisoner, requesting a delay of a few minutes, to enable him to have a brief interview with the prisoner. He would accordingly wait a short time.

Soon after Brown was brought in and took his usual recumbent position in bed. Samuel Chilton, of Washington City, ap-peared as additional counsel for the prisoners, and was qualified. Henry Griswold, of Cleveland, was also qualified as counsel for the prisoners.
Mr. Chilton made an explanatory statement.

He was unexpectedly called upon, yesterday, to aid in the defense. He came with the expectation of merely assisting the gentlemen who were conducting the defense, but upon reaching here he found they had withdrawn from the case. He then determined to do his hest, not feeling at liberty to refuse under the circumstances. However, it would be impossible for him to discharge the fell duty of counsel, not having had time to read the indictment more delays could be granted. The trial then proceeded.

Mr. Hoyt, for the prisoner, objected to reciving as evidence the letter of Gerrit 8 mith, heretofore published; also, the autobiogr aphy of Brown, written by himself. Both were withdrawn.

Several witnesses were then examined by Mr. Hoyt, and cross-questioned by the prisoner, while lying on his bed, wrapped up in a blanket. The testimony was mainly relative to Brown's kind treatment of his Several witnesses for the prisoner were examined, all proving that Brown had treated his prisoners with humanity, and frequently expressed his regret that bloodshed should have been caused by him in self-defense.

The defense closed their testimony alocal four o'clock and the State desired to give the case to the jury without argument.

Captain Brown insisted that his occursel should argue the case. After the opening speech for the State the Court adjourned till Monday morning, whey the counsel for the prisoner will proceed.

Louis Napoleon and Hungary, The London correspondent of the N. Y.

Mr. Kossuth has returned to England. He has recovered his equanimity, and speaks without asperity of the French Emperor. He acquits him of bad faith to the Hungarians, but of course treats the peace of Villa Franca as for the time ruinous to the hopes of his country. He does not, perhaps say, (but I am assured by one who seldom has misled me about any matter of fact in which he speaks confidently) that at the last interview M. Kossuth had with Louis Napoleon before the battle of Solferino, the Emperor said em-phatically, "Remember I can not bid you tell your countrymen to rise in revolt until I get to Venice, for I do not know whether may not have to conclude the war before am half way thither." It is stated that the French were to send 40,000 men into Hunwhen they had obtained possession of that city.

INDIGNATION AGAINST GOV. WISS .- The Harper's Ferry people are indignant at the language employed by Governor Wise in cen-suring them for allowing the armory to be taken, and think the papers have not given them proper credit for their efforts to repel the invaders. The citizens, they say, did all that invaders. The citizens, they say, and all that was done—drove Brown's party into the en-gine-house, and kept them there, and not a filibuster was killed, wounded or captured by the uniformed militia, to whom all the credit has been given by the newspapers. They talk of holding a meeting to vindicate the honor of

The St. Louis Republican reports that Major Floyd is making fair progress in remov-ing the obstructions of the Des Moines Rapids, the Mississippi River, near Keckuk. He has nearly removed the rocks known as the "Omega Patch," and has opened a channel through the patch above, two hundred feet wide, and six feet deep at the present low stage of water. The Major believes that, with half a million of dollars, he can, in three seasons more, render the navigation of these rapids perfectly free from hazard. These and the rapids at Rock Island have occupied the attention of the government since the year 1836, and large sums of money and infinite toil have been expended upon them, but with little success until recently.

A writer of the New York Occerver who has been studying the new Webster's Unabridged Dictionary, regrets that the lexicographer's definition of the word "boil" had not met the eyes of the new version people before they translated the book of Job, as it would have been so beautiful to say, instead of boils, "And Satan smote Job with 'circumscribed subcutaneous inflammations, characterized by pointed pustular tumors, and suppurating with RATES OF ADVERTISING
